Amy is known for her amusing fusible applique wall hangings. Amy's inspiration for her first quilt design, Dazzling Dogs, was to create a gift for her husband John's veterinary clinic. She started her business with that quilt pattern in 2002 and has been having a blast ever since. You will immediately recognize her work and it will put a smile on your face for sure. Amy will be teaching on Sunday, June 25th at First Stitches in Cañon City. There is still space available. Dear Quilting Friends, Fun was had by all...It was a great Saturday event with kids and adults learning about quilting together. Kathy Emmel gave us an inspiring trunk show and lecture on how to incorporate many techniques to make fun kid's quilts. It's always great to see the quilts that Kathy and her students made during her 30 years of teaching. The make & take options were well received. We look forward to seeing kid's quilt blocks that they turn in at Quilt-a-Fair for the block challenge. The best part was that so many of our CQC members brought their kids, grandkids and we even had some great-grandkids. Quilting is definitely generational. Thank you to all who worked so hard to make Exploring Quilting with CQC such a success, especially Mitzi King and her family, Joyce Taff for the refreshments and Lucille Rypinksi and Cindy DeMore for making beautiful quilts. The kids were so excited to win door prizes, especially the American Girl Doll and the sewing machine!

We are excited about our summer venues and teachers. Amy Bradley will be with us in Canon City and Joe "The Quilter" Cunningham in Steamboat. Hope everyone is planning to attend these two meetings. These two teachers will add a new dimension to your quilting and knowledge of quilts.

I am most excited for our July birthday meeting in Parker, where we get to spend the weekend with Alex Anderson. What a great way to celebrate our 39 years together and start a 40th year celebration. There is room for more attendees for the luncheon and workshops. Alex is always informative, fun and her love of quilting is infectious. Think of a project you'd want Alex to give quilting advice on and adding to your story.

It is the end of the school year, so I am looking forward to restful days of sewing and quilting.

I wish you a summer filled with sunny days, cool nights and lots of quilts getting finished for our Quilt-a-Fair member show.

A Special Note

I wanted to let you know what a success the kids' day was for my granddaughter. She is 6 years old with no experience in the sewing room.

The craft books were appropriate for her and she didn't put them down until bedtime.

Apparently, all she talked about at dinner was her day at CQC. We already have a project ready for our sew day in my sewing room.

Thank you for your understanding. And now, get your rotary cutters and sewing machines started!

©Copyright 2017 Colorado Quilting Council

Part 5 of 5

This is it—the final clue! If you've been keeping up with the clues each month, you'll be done in no time.

Please read all instructions before beginning. Basic quilt making and rotary-cutting skills are assumed. All dimensions include $\frac{1}{4}$ " seam allowances, unless otherwise indicated. Accurate cutting and piecing are needed. It is recommended that the first unit in each step be sewn and measured. Adjust your seam allowance as needed to achieve the correct size.

Making Block Y

Sew 2 Four Patch Units (from Part 2) to a Color A Flying Geese Unit (from Part 3), as shown. Iron seam allowances toward the Flying Geese Unit. Make 26 units.

Sew 2 Color A Flying Geese Units (from Part 3) to a Spool Unit (from Part 4), as shown. Iron seam allowances toward the Flying Geese Units. Make 13 units.

Sew these units as shown to make Block Y. Iron seam allowances toward the Flying Geese. Make 13 Y Blocks.

Making Block Z

Sew 2 Color A HST Units (from Part 2) to a Color B Flying Geese Unit (from Part 4), as shown. Iron seam allowances toward the HST Units. Make 24 units.

Sew 2 Color B Flying Geese Units (from Part 3) to a Spool Unit (from Part 4), as shown. Note the orientation of the Spool Unit is different from Block Y. Iron seam allowances toward the Spool Unit. Make 12 units.

Sew these units as shown to make Block Z. Iron seam allowances toward the Spool Unit. Make 12-Z Blocks.

Assembling the Quilt Top

Using the Quilt Layout Diagram below as a guide, sew the Block Y and Block Z blocks together into rows. Please note the orientation of the Spool block changes between Block Y and Z. Iron seam allowances in different directions on alternate rows so they will nest when the rows are sewn together.

Then, sew the rows together. Iron seam allowances toward rows 1, 3 and 5.

Adding Borders

Sew three Rectangle Units (from Part 4) with two $3\frac{1}{2}$ " \times 12 $\frac{1}{2}$ " Background rectangles to make a Border 1 unit. Iron seam allowances toward the Background rectangles. Make 4 Border 1 units.

Sew a Border 1 unit to each side of the quilt as shown in the Quilt Layout Diagram. Iron seam allowances toward Border 1.

Add a $3\frac{1}{2}$ " Background square to each end of the remaining Border 1 units. Iron the seam allowance away from the corner squares. Attach to the quilt top and bottom as shown in the Quilt Layout Diagram. Iron the seam allowance toward Border 1.

Sew two $2\frac{1}{2}$ " Background strips together making 4 long Border 2 strips.

Measure the length of the pieced quilt top through the center. Cut two of the long $2\frac{1}{2}$ " Border 2 strips to this length. Sew one to each side of the quilt top. Press seam allowance toward the Border 2 strip.

Measure the new width of the pieced quilt top through the center. Cut the remaining two $2\frac{1}{2}$ " Border 2 strips to this width. Sew the strips to the top and bottom of the quilt top. Press seam allowance toward the Border 2 strip.

CONGRATULATIONS! You have completed Spool Dance, the CQC 2017 Mystery Quilt. We hope you enjoyed this adventure.

Please bring your completed quilt to a CQC meeting for Show and Tell. We love to see all the variations in color and fabrics.

May General Meeting

The May meeting was thoroughly enjoyed by CQC members and several youth who took home lots of door prizes. We had an amazing quilt show & tell. Thank you to Kathy Emmel who showed us a spectacular collection of quilts that she's made with her students through her years of teaching. Thank you to all who volunteered, you made this event a success. And a huge thank you to all who donated items to give to the attendees: Costco, American Girl Doll, Dee and so many others. Thanks to Lucille and Cindy for making beautiful quilts that will warm the hearts of our lucky winners.

Kathy shared her beautiful work and the amazing quilts she completed with her students.

These attendees won our grand prizes: an American Girl doll, Brother sewing machine and a wonderful quilt made by Lucille Rypinski.

This young lady won a scholarship for a one-week summer camp at the RMQM gifted by Kathy.

Spring Retreat held in Colorado Springs May 5–7 was a grand time; all the more fun for its simplicity. Many projects were finished over the three days of intense sewing. 5 new members were welcomed to CQC in a very unique way, and even some longtime CQC members were excited to join retreat for the first time. The laughter and the sharing of stories filled the room, making for some new friendships. Many ideas were exchanged as well.

I would like to thank my committee members Melanie Eber, Jean Ruger, Glenda Brown, Pam Ballard, and Nan Baun for all their ideas and support in making this a fun, low-stress event to plan and participate in!

What Makes Me Crazy???

By Ellen Palmer, Quilt-a-Fair Quilt Show, Chairman

What makes me crazy is when I hear someone say, "just", "not my best", "not real good", "I made a mistake here", "I can't compete against_____".

"We" have all done it, and hopefully "we" are trying to conquer this bad habit of self-effacing. When we look at our finished quilt, we know where we have made a mistake or see places we know we could have done better. Most of the time we see these things AFTER the quilt is finished, then we tend to point it out to our friends, or even during show and tell at our local guilds.

Below are comments I often hear and my reaction to what has been said.

1. "if I hear one negative comment from a non-quilter, I don't show her any more quilts".
Really?? What negative comment would a non-quilter make???
2. "I haven't posted any of my quilts yet because all of yours are so beautiful".
3.and....."My quilts do not compare to yours".
Don't compare yourself to someone else!! You are not the other person, so your work is not comparable.
4. "My late husband was a deer hunter so I made him a quilt to use at the deer lease, it was just machine embroidered. The quilt now hangs on my living room wall as a memorial."
What a great memorial to her husband. I'm sure her husband loved that quilt. I'm happy she finally appreciated it.
5. A lady sent a quilt to her best friend as a gift and told her, "This is not my best work".
Really? How does that make the receiver feel? Do they wonder who got the "best work"?

Here are my recommendations to all quilters:

- A. Don't point out mistakes in your quilt.
- B. Don't compare yourself to someone else! We all have our own individual talents.
- C. Don't make negative comments about other quilts. (Who is standing next to you)???
- D. Finish what you start and do not be ashamed if you gave it your best.
- E. When receiving a compliment on your quilt, smile and say "Thank You. "

It makes me smile when I go to a quilt show and see my quilt hanging for all to see. I love to stand near and listen to the comments that others are making. When I say, "that is my quilt", the onlookers are happy to actually meet the person that made the quilt they are admiring! (And, no, there hasn't been any negative comments made!!)

It takes confidence to put your work in front of others. The feedback you get from the Judges and fellow quilters will help you learn "where and how" you can improve your techniques and gain new confidences!

Kid's Corner

Charming Bow Tie Quilts!

Here is a simple Bow Tie Tutorial to show you how to create your own 12" block!

STEP 1:

From bow tie fabric, cut two 6.5" squares and two 3" squares; from background fabric, cut two 6.5" squares.

STEP 2:

Use a ruler and pencil to draw a diagonal line from corner to corner on the wrong side of the small 3" bow tie squares.

STEP 3:

Place those 3" squares on the corner of a 6.5" background square, right sides together with the raw edges aligned as shown. The ends of the pencil line should touch both sides of the background square.

STEP 4:

Sew along pencil line, backstitching at beginning and end if desired. Use ruler and rotary cutter to cut off excess fabric, leaving a ¼" seam allowance. Press seams in preferred direction.

STEP 5:

Now it is time to sew your block together! Arrange pieces as shown, and sew squares into rows. Press seams and sew rows together. One final press, and your 12" (12.5" unfinished) bow tie block is done!

Quilters note: Are you interested in making smaller bow tie blocks? Use these cutting dimensions to make 6" quilt blocks: From bow tie fabric cut two 3.5" squares and two 1.5" squares, from background fabric cut two 3.5" squares.

General Meeting Minutes

May 20, 2017

South Fellowship Church, Littleton, CO

Dawn, CQC's President, called the meeting to order at 9:45a. She welcomed everyone to "Explore Quilting with CQC" and explained how CQC got started. Dawn invited everyone to attend the quilt show at the Denver Public Library from June 28th to August 25th, Quilt-A-Fair in Longmont from September 22nd to 23rd and to hang a quilt in the Quilt-A-Fair show, and to attend the July meeting in Parker on July 22nd with Alex Anderson.

Astronaut Karen Nyberg talked from the space station about the challenges of quilting in space. She challenged everyone to make a star block to be added to her block. For more information check out the International Quilt Festival website.

Treasurer Report, Mary Rush—see the newsletter for details.

Membership, Pat Cleaveland—In attendance today were 50 members, 7 adult guests and 26 kids. We now have 540 members.

Members had a "quilt parade" to show the kids what can be done with fabric. Several members participated in the parade and gave the kids a good overview of the many ways a quilt can be made.

Door prizes were awarded throughout the day. Everyone seemed to have a good time.

Kathy Emmel showed and talked about the quilts she made with her grade school classes. She also talked about the different techniques used to make those quilts.

Respectfully Submitted,

Karen Brown, Recording Secretary

Dance of the Butterflies quilt donated by Cindy DeMoore for our family event.
